I can't find a diving medical officer?

If there is no DMO nearby, it can be arranged that you do your check up at Hermanus on your first day of course. Remember that if you do not pass this medical, you cannot continue on the course as to be a commercial diver you need pass this every year to be able to dive, but we will reimburse you. The cost for this is +- R2,000.00 above the course fees, and can differ between DMO's.

What courses do we provide?

We provide Department of Labour approved Class IV and III – 30m Air Diving tickets as well as Class II – 50m Air Diving ticket. We also provide Class IV, III and II Inshore Supervisor courses, 3 to 4 weeks, if divers have attained the correct time periods, diving hours and needed dives to qualify. Please contact us for more details.

The Class IV – 30m SCUBA course is for four weeks, one-week theory plus first aid and three weeks, 11 hours and 40 minutes bottom time, practical training.

How do the job prospects look after training? How much can I potentially earn?

It all depends on your attitude and 24 hr availability. Most of our students do get work and we assist them with a CV compilation and give details of diving firms that employ divers. Building up a career takes time where you first have to start from the bottom, diamond diving and inland civil to work, build up your CV with experience and diving hours, until you reach a level sufficient to be accepted on offshore jobs and this can take years. Companies do approach us with work offers and this we post to the divers. For companies around the world, go and look further at:- www.longstreat.com
